

Xerophytes are plants that can live in very dry surroundings. Like many xerophytes, the leaves of the prickly pear cactus are perfect for holding water inside the plant. They are very thick and have a waxy surface. Prickly pear's bright yellow flowers appear during Florida's rainy season, in early spring and summer.